Skin care for kids

Cottesloe mother-of-two Alex Field is delivering her new children's skin care and healing products to the world.

The organic Pitta Patta range of creams and oils uses the ancient form of vibrational healing and chakra balancing to work on the physical, emotional and spiritual aspects of children. Alex says the products can help children deal with issues such as shyness or fear.

"It aims to provide parents with a safe, reliable and complete solution to the day-to-day trials of nurturing young children," she says.

Recently released in the UK and Australia, Pitta Patta can be found at Tamara Yoga, 24 St Quentins Avenue, Claremont.
